Q: How do I "Bring to Front" Xcode window by Drag and Drop? I have 5 Xcode windows open. Right now, the application I'm working on is stored in the last window I opened. I'm looking to find a way to just drag a window to the front so that it is viewable. I've been searching for a solution and the closest I can find is this: However, this just moves the Xcode window to the top of the list. I can't select it. I can't Drag to move it into the current window I'm working on. It's just stuck on the top of the list. How do I simply bring to the front of the list? A: I believe that this was an issue with our Mac. I will leave this up in case it helps others. Q: Given a linear map, why is it a restriction of a map from the orthogonal complement to its image? Assume that $T:V \rightarrow W$ is a linear map between two vector spaces and that $u \in V$ is orthogonal to $T(V)$. Now I want to show that T is the restriction of a linear map from the orthogonal complement $T(V)^\perp$ to W . So far I have shown that T is well defined. Now, for any $v \in V$, $u \perp T(v)$ implies that $\langle u, v \rangle = 0$, i.e. $\langle u, v \rangle = 0$ for any $w \in T(V)$. Then, for any $w \in W$, $\langle u, w \rangle$
